SECTION II

DIARY

4. On the 31st of December at 1630, information was received by the squadron unit at France Field, Canal Zone, to the effect that 2d Lt Doran, 32d Fighter Group, had bailed out of a P-39 near Nombre de Dios, Republic of Panama. Rescue Boat P-257 (42') was immediately dispatched. However, at approximately 1813, Rescue Boat P-257 was ordered to report back to its base due to the fact the vessel encountered unusually heavy seas and was unable to make appreciable headway and there was imminent danger of the ship capsizing. At 0530, on the 1st of January 1945, the P-257 proceeded once more in an effort to reach the Nombre de Dios area. Although heavy seas were running the vessel arrived at its destination at 0930. As the anchor was dropped, the natives brought the pilot out in a cayuca. The pilot was thoroughly examined by the medical NCO aboard and given hot drink and food before the P-257 returned to its home base.

BASIC: Squadron History, 12th AAF Emerg Rescue Boat Sq, for January 1945, cont'd.

5. Added to the complexities of functioning as an organization in this area was the unstability of the Panamanian Government around the 1st of the year. President De La Guardia abolished his congress and suspended the Panamanian Constitution when his own political support weakened and thereby created a bit of a political chaos in our immediate neighborhood. In as much as our small boat crews are required to leave the base and enter the Canal Zone near the Republic of Panama to reach their ships, a ticklish situation developed. The Panama Canal Department ordered a full alert and placed the Republic of Panama off limits to prevent any possible clash between the would be revolutionists and our continental troops. In a few days all was calm again. The politicians developed laryngitis shouting dire threats at each other and retired to soothe their injured feelings.

6. Having been declared an accountable organization per 1st indorsement, Headquarters Panama Canal Department, dated 2 October 1944 on letter Headquarters Sixth Air Force, dated 21 September 1944, 1st Lt Albert C. Harper, AC, O-565569, was appointed accountable officer for the squadron.[1] Prior to this authorization, the Base Quartermasters were held accountable for all squadron property assigned their stations. This change necessitated a complete transfer of organizational property from Base Quartermasters to Squadron Headquarters, which is being accomplished at present.

NOTE: 1 see appendix X

7. On the 18th of January 1945, the location of Squadron Headquarters was formally changed[1] from Panama Air Depot, Canal Zone, to Albrook Field, Canal Zone. The majority of squadron personnel were attached to a base squadron at Albrook Field while Squadron Headquarters was at Panama Air Depot. However, the change of location brought the Commanding Officer once again in direct contact with his personnel. This necessitated relieving the personnel at Albrook Field from attachment[2] to the 16th Base Headquarters and Air Base Squadron located thereat. There were no empty barracks at Albrook Field so enlisted personnel were attached[3] to the 16th Base Headquarters and Air Base Squadron for rations and quarters only. A squadron supply was established. T. O. 1-989, 18 Dec 1943, does not authorized a first sergeant so T Sgt Sam Segal, 32341582, was appointed acting first sergeant.

8. Captain LeRoy V. Haller, AC, O-461401, was attached[4] to the squadron from Headquarters VI Bomber Command, Albrook

Field, on the 22d of January 1945, in the capacity of consultant to the supply officer. Captain Haller immediately undertook the establishment of a complete supply system. A definite procedure for the requisitioning of supplies for vessels by the masters was established.

9. On the 22d of January 1945, CWO Robert F. MacDonald, USA, W-2104878, was attached[1] to the organization from Headquarters Panama Air Depot, and was assigned the principle duty of Officer in Charge of the Maintenance Section, comprising a boat maintenance, auto maintenance and woodworking shops.

10. At the present time rumors are rife regarding possible reassignment for the enlisted personnel who arrived in this area the 15th of July 1942. If morale of an organization is measured by the amount of rumors produced, this squadron stands heads above all others. In a way, this is a healthy indication of an alert and concientious organization, for the squadron personnel always have a twinkle in their eyes when repeating rumors. They definitely have not lost their sense of humor in spite of the length of time spent away from home.

11. A Radio Control Room was established at Squadron Headquarters during January 1945. Receivers and Transmitters were obtained from the Signal Section, Albrook Field. Only the receivers are in operation in as much as the standard current at this base is twenty-five (25) cycles. A work order has been submitted to the Post Engineers requesting a direct line of 110 volts, 60 cycles to supply power for the transmitters. At present, a radio operator is on duty twenty-four (24) hours a day monitoring our assigned frequency. With the installation of the transmitters, direct contact between the squadron commander and the ships on patrol or standing by will be afforded. Direct telephone lines with the Albrook Army Airways station and the Controller, XXVI Fighter Command, Quarry Heights, have been installed providing a complete communications system between planes, boats and ground stations.

12th of November 1944. Competent personnel were appointed as instructors including a civilian to teach Engineering. The technical classes were held in the evening and varied in duration from on e (1) to three (3) hours. In as much as the squadron enlisted personnel had never attended any school what so ever pertaining to boat operation and/or maintenance, the necessity for this program can clearly be seen. Satisfactory to excellent results are being obtained. Much depending upon the student's attitude and mental capability.

5. On the 1st of February 1945, information was received by the squadron unit at France Field that Major Benjamin F. Fiser, 43d Fighter Squadron, that station, had parachuted into the waters off Porto Bello, Republic of Panama. At 1025, USA Rescue Boat P-257 (42') departed France Field with a Medical Officer aboard to effect the rescue. Some difficulty was experienced by the master in obtaining the pilot's definite location. After communicating with France Army Airways radio station, information was received revealing the pilot had come down near the village of Jose Pobre, near Porto Bello. The P-257 arrived at Jose Pobre at 1230 and proceeded inshore using the sounding lead for the waters were not accurately charted. The natives paddled out to the P-257 and stated they would bring the pilot out in a cayuca. Upon boarding the ship, the pilot was examined by the Medical Officer and Medical Non-Commiscioned Officer and found to be uninjured. The Master and Medical Officer then went ashore to investigate the wrecked plane to determine if any parts could be salvaged and whether posting of a guard was necessary. Upon reaching the scene of the crash on a hillside, it was discovered that the plane was thoroughly demolished. They returned to the P-257 and proceeded to France Field, arriving there at 1535.

6. The squadron at Albrook Field has settled down to routine operations once more since the assignment of Major Sears as Commanding Officer last December and the change of station from Panama Air Depot to Albrook Field in January of this year. The Commanding Officer insisted on strict discipline, initiative, common sense and industriousness. This resulted in the adoption of a training program, as mentioned in paragraph four (4) of this history; the establishment of accountability for the squadron; the acquirement of Captain Haller to develop a supply section and establish a system of requisitioning and of CWO Robert MacDonald as Engineering and Maintenance Officer; the installation of a central radio control room in squadron headquarters; the policy of having squadron vessels on patrol rather than tied to the pier or buoys awaiting a call; the use of a one hundred four (104') foot ship for training while under actual operating conditions; besides many numerous little arrangements designed to increase the squadron's operating efficiency.

7. On the 14th of February 1945, a P-39 fighter plane was preparing to land at France Field, on the water end of the runway, directly opposite the boat house. As the wheels hit the runway, the steering mechanism refused to work causing the plane to veer off the runway into the bay. This crash was witnessed by the boat crews who immediately took off in a shallow draft vessel, the J-638 (22'). They reached the plane and assisted the pilot in clearing it. Time elapsed: one (1) minute. The pilot was taken ashore and found to be uninjured. Floatation gear was not used or needed for the water was very shallow at that point. Salvaging operations were conducted by Base Engineering assisted by our boat crews.

DIARY

4. On the fifth of the month,—the first of the July 1942 enlisted men were reassigned[1] to the States. However, the large percentage of the 1942 personnel still in the squadron are counting the days as well as the hours until the day they can happily gaze upon that wonderful sheet of paper: their reassignment orders.

5. WOJG William Hall, USA, W2113812, left the squadron for reassignment[2] to the United States on the 13th of March, after thirty-six (36) months tour of duty with the organization in this area. Mr. Hall arrived in the Panama Canal Department as an enlisted man and after twenty-two (22) months of efficient duty he received his warrant in January 1944.

6. Five (5) enlisted men were sent[3] to the Department Motor Mechanic School, Fort Clayton, Canal Zone, for an intensive six (6) weeks course of instruction. There are no marine mechanic schools in this area, so whenever the opportunity avails itself,

NOTE: 1 - See appendix III
2 - See appendix V
3 - See appendix XIII

the squadron endeavors to place a few men at various motor mechanic schools in an effort to further instruct qualified personnel in motor mechanic principles.

7. On the 22d of March, information was received by squadron headquarters that a P-39 had gone down near San Miguel bay, approximately midway in the one hundred (100) mile stretch between Rey Island and Jaque, Republic of Panama. The P-258 (42') at Rey Island and the J-570 (50') at Jaque were both alerted and dispatched. The P-258 arrived at the scene of the crash at 1100 and sighted the pilot in a native cayuca half way to shore. The pilot was transferred to the boat and was returned to the P-258's base at Rey Island. The medical officer aboard had confirmed the fact the pilot was uninjured. Meanwhile the J-570 had returned to Jaque. Name of pilot: 2d Lt Rufus H. Risk, AC, 0779601.

8. At 1055 on the 26th of March, the squadron unit at France Field, was alerted by squadron headquarters and informed that a navy plane with nine minutes fuel supply was in the Cocle Del Norte area. At 1057, Rescue Boat P-257 (42') departed its base to effect the rescue. Enroute, the P-257 was in constant radio contact with Army and Navy search planes. At 1330, the plane wreckage was sighted approximately seven (7) miles from Cocle Del Norte. The pilot on shore spotted the ship as she eased inshore and tried to swim through the breakers to her. The pilot was motioned back and a life raft was inflated. Two of the ship's crew manned the life raft and after considerable difficulty in getting through the breakers reached the shore. With the aid of the pilot, they removed the secret radio equipment and his parachute to the raft and returned to the boat. The medical officer aboard gave the pilot a check and stated he was uninjured. At this time, a naval search vessel arrived and the pilot was transferred to it. The P-257 turned homewards and arrived at its base at 1905. Name of pilot: Lt David E. Satterfield.
